Connecting pathways for a vibrant and safer future

Come and join the world's leading injury prevention and safety researchers, practitioners and advocates in Wellington in October, 2012, as we explore questions such as:

- how do we develop safer environments, yet retain vibrant communities and cities?
- how do we balance economic, social and rehabilitation goals?
- what are the pathways for developing a positive safety culture?
- what are the pathways between compensation, treatment, rehabilitation, a return to active economic and social participation and the prevention of reinjury?
- how do we weave specific areas of injury prevention into a more comprehensive focus on promoting safety?
- is an injury-free future attainable?
