Terms and Conditions

Council cannot take into account circumstances which put the powered wheelchair or the controller outside of their specified operating conditions, and so it is important that the user follows the precautions below:

Do not drive the wheelchair:

- Beyond restrictions indicated in the powered wheelchair user manual, for example maximum inclines, kerb height etc.
- In places or on surfaces where a loss of wheel grip could be hazardous, for example on wet grassy slopes.
- If the controller or other crucial components are known to require repair.

CRITICAL!

Your powered wheelchair has electric motors and must NEVER be driven through water, into rivers, creeks and the sea.

The powered wheelchair meets the following Australian design and usage standards:

- ISO 7176, Wheelchairs
- AS/NZS 3696.2, Wheelchairs Determination of dynamic stability
- AS/NZS 3696.5 and AS/NZS 3695.2, Determination of overall dimensions, mass and turning space
- EN12184, Methods for electrically powered wheelchairs
- ISO9001, Quality Management
