Respect and remembrance at heart of We-Akon Dilinja ceremony

St Kilda's spectacular foreshore will be the backdrop for the dawn We-Akon Dilinja mourning reflection ceremony on Australia Day, 26 January.

This moving ceremony will be presented at Alfred Square from 5.45 am by the Boonwurrung Land and Sea Council (BLSC) in partnership with Port Phillip Council. Support is also provided by the National Australia Day Council.

BLSC N'arweet Jason Briggs said everyone is invited to respect and acknowledge the many thousands of years of the Boonwurrung People's continuing culture and connection to the land and waters traditionally known as Yuroke.

"The theme this year is Respect, Remembrance and Revival. The mourning ceremony will celebrate through song and performance the resilience of the Boonwurrung People and invite fellow citizens to share the acknowledgement of the past and present - acknowledging what we can learn from the past, rather than being chained by it, in order to create a better future," he said.

"We-Akon Dilinja is an opportunity for all Australians to redefine what it means to be Australian. If we all want solutions, we first have to identify the real problems and work together to achieve effective outcomes for a fairer and more inclusive nation."

Mayor Heather Cunsolo said Port Phillip was the first council in Australia to support a ceremony of this kind. "We are very proud to be part of the fifth year of this commemorative event which draws more attendees every year to hear this important message of respect and reconciliation."

There is no cost to attend and bookings aren't required. Those who can't attend can view the livestream here:

The Midsumma Festival is here!

Port Phillip is bursting with pride with the return of the much-anticipated annual Midsumma Festival, taking place from 21 January to 11 February.

Our neighbourhoods are home to some of the biggest and best Midsumma events. From theatre, cabaret and visual arts to parties, community events and, of course, the iconic Midsumma Pride March.

The annual Pride March will turn St Kilda's Fitzroy Street into a sea of colour and solidarity for gender and sexual diversity on Sunday 4 February.

Our Council is a longstanding supporter of the Festival, and Midsumma, as Australia's premier LGBTIQ+ arts and cultural organisation.

Our City is proud to play host to 22 days of pride summer celebrations with a jam-packed schedule of local Midsumma events and participating venues listed on our What's On St Kilda and Surrounds website.

<https://whatsonstkilda.com/article/14721-a/midsumma-festival-is-back-for-2024>

We will raise the progress pride flag high over St Kilda Town Hall at our annual flag-raising ceremony to demonstrate our commitment for Port Phillip to be an inclusive City for all members of the community.

The ceremony is at 4 pm on Tuesday 30 January on the front lawn of St Kilda Town Hall. Everyone is welcome to attend, and for those who can't, a livestream can be viewed on our Facebook page.

City News

St Kilda Festival sneak peek

The first fabulous St Kilda Festival headliners have been unveiled ahead of the full two-day program announcement on 17 January.

Headliners for Big Festival Sunday (18 February) include popular electronica, hip hop and indie-pop musician from Brisbane, Mallrat, and the much-loved Sydney electronic musical duo Bag Raiders.

The First Peoples First day on Saturday (17 February) will be headlined by renowned neo-soul artist Mo'Ju.

St Kilda Festival's diverse program features live Australian music, dance performances, workshops, sports demonstrations, community group activities, food and market stalls, extended business trading, roving entertainment and a dedicated family-friendly stage.

Renowned as one of Australia's largest and longest-running free music and cultural events, the Festival brings significant economic benefits to St Kilda while celebrating and promoting Australian talent.

Linden annual Postcard show

One of the biggest events in Linden New Art's annual calendar, the Postcards Show, opens on 9 December. With over 1,000 works on display, 2023-2024 will be the biggest exhibition yet, featuring art across multiple mediums including 2D, sculptures, video art and audio. A four-week summer pop-up bar will run during the season, with whiskey-based cocktails and rotating DJs in partnership with The Gospel Whiskey.

Postcards Show: 9 December (opening), 10 December 2023 to 11 February, 2024 (season), 26 Acland Street, St Kilda. Gospel Sundays Summer pop-up bar season: Sundays, 15 January to 5 February, 2024, hours to be announced.

2023 - 2024 2XU Triathlon Series

Victoria's premier triathlon event, the 2XU Triathlon Series, is fixture across Melbourne's southside beaches during summer. The season is now open, with races coming up in both St Kilda and Elwood. Different fitness levels are welcome, including tri-kids, age groupers and elites. Some road closures apply during race times, so allow extra travel time.

2XU Triathlon Series, Catani Gardens, St Kilda (24 March) and Elwood Reserve (3 March). Register for the 2XU Triathlon

Bourne Local Artists Market

Local favourite Bourne Local Artists Market is holding a special Twilight Market for one night only in January. Venture out to Elwood Park and Elwood Foreshore Reserve to browse the wares of local makers, artists and producers. Live music, coffee, food trucks and a pop-up cocktail bar adds to the vibrant atmosphere.

20 January, 3 to 8 pm, Elwood Park and Elwood Foreshore Reserve.

Sunset Cinema, St Kilda Botanic Gardens

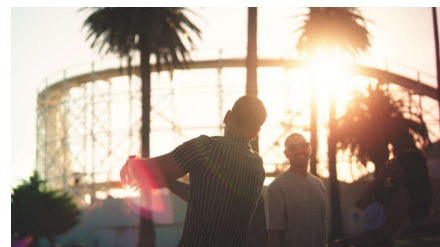

The St Kilda Botanic Gardens makes a stunning backdrop for the return season of Sunset Cinema (formerly Barefoot Cinema). Watch the hottest summer releases under the stars including Wonka, Poor Things, Mean Girls, Next Goal Wins, and The Color Purple. The program also features classic and new family films, including Studio Ghibli's first release in a decade, The Boy and The Heron. Relax in comfy beanbags with a fully licensed onsite bar, food trucks, and gourmet choctops, or upgrade your experience and book for the VIP Sunset Lounge, for a prime viewing spot and unlimited popcorn. Arrive early to grab a drink amongst the greenery as the shadows lengthen.

31 January to 9 March, 6.30 to 11 pm, 11 Herbert Street, St Kilda

St Kilda open for business over summer during plaza works

Luna Park and the Palais Theatre are continuing to operate as works are undertaken in the surrounding precinct to create a new pedestrian plaza.

There are changes to traffic conditions and access to the precinct as construction is underway to build a safer and more welcoming public space for the two Melbourne icons.

The revitalisation project will provide greater protection against hostile vehicles, while the creation of a shared zone on Cavell Street will reduce vehicle speed and prioritise pedestrians.

The new community-centred space will also include seating, new public lighting and additional shade from new trees and garden beds.

Port Phillip Council Mayor Heather Cunsolo reminded residents and visitors that it's business as usual at Luna Park and the Palais Theatre as the surrounding precinct receives a makeover.

"You may see temporary fencing and construction work near two of our most beloved locations," she said. "But that won't silence the screams of joy and laughter you'll hear from inside Luna Park or the excitement of people streaming out of the Palais Theatre after an incredible night of live music."

Construction will take place over several stages with different traffic conditions implemented.

Council is delivering the project in partnership with the Victorian Government. Works are expected to be completed by mid-2024.

Creating a safer and more inviting space is vital given the hundreds of thousands of visitors St Kilda attracts in the peak season.

Council's Summer Southside campaign is in full swing and, as the weather heats up, so does the fun in St Kilda.

There are several exciting events happening in St Kilda this summer, including:

- the return of the iconic St Kilda Festival on 17 – 18 February with two days of incredible live music
- the Midsumma Festival (21 January – 11 February) and Midsumma Pride March, which will turn Fitzroy Street into a sea of colour on 4 February in a celebration of the LGBTQIA+ community
- Sunset Market, a new pop-up makers market, landing in Acland Street in the new year
- the popular KIIS Eye Ferris Wheel returning to Catani Gardens, offering stunning 360-degree views of Melbourne and Port Phillip Bay

Keep up to date with all the latest events happening in and around St Kilda by visiting Council's What's On St Kilda and Southside website.

Background

- The project is being delivered in response to an independent assessment that identified risks relating to attacks using vehicles as weapons.
- Carparking will always be available on Jacka Boulevard throughout the duration of the works.
- Cavell Street will be open to pedestrians during St Kilda Festival on 17 – 18 February to help large crowds access the Festival, foreshore and St Kilda area.
- Vehicle and pedestrian access to Luna Park, Palais Theatre and Cavell Street car park will always be accessible via Jacka Boulevard throughout the duration of works.
- Any temporary road or footpath closures will be advised in advance.
- Noise associated with construction works will be limited to standard working hours.

Celebrating a successful start to summer

New Year's went off without a hitch and now we're looking towards what comes next.

Many people flocked to our foreshore over the New Year's period to celebrate shoreside, once again proving why St Kilda is Victoria's most visited beach.

The whole event was a success, with celebrations in our public spaces remaining family-friendly.

We want to say a big thank you to everyone who rang in the New Year responsibly by following local bans and restrictions. By playing your part, you helped to ensure celebrations stayed safe, clean and fun for everyone.

This success was underpinned by a huge multi-agency effort carried out with our many partners including Victoria Police, Liquor Licensing, Ambulance Victoria, Parks Victoria, Yarra Trams, VicRoads, Public Transport Victoria and Lifesaving Victoria.

Our Council Officers were also out in force assisting Victoria Police in maintaining the peace and enforcing local restrictions, including the citywide New Year's alcohol ban.

With the 26 January public holiday quickly approaching, it's important that we all continue to play our part for a safe and successful summer.

A citywide alcohol ban will be in effect from 8 pm 25 January to 12 midday 27 January. During this time, unsealed containers of alcohol will not be permitted in any public areas. All other alcohol bans will continue to apply during this time too.

Anyone wanting to have an alcoholic beverage can still do so at licensed venues or on private property.

With summer expected to heat up and El Nino weather patterns being forecast; we're planning for a burst of revellers to make their way to Port Phillip for the Australia Day long weekend.

Police and Local Law Officers will once again be out in force patrolling, and we ask everyone to keep up the great work in continuing to comply with local restrictions following the success of New Year's.

2024 Community Satisfaction Survey starting soon

As part of our commitment to assessing our Council's performance, some Port Phillip households will be contacted by telephone between 29 January to mid-March for the annual Community Satisfaction Survey.

Independent market research agency, National Field Services, will be interviewing a representative sample of 900 residents.

Participants' details and responses are confidential and only the overall results will be shared with us. Residents with any questions about the survey can contact our Corporate Planning

Team at helpdesk-coppmeansbusiness@portphillip.vic.gov.au

All Victorian councils undertake similar surveys to identify ways of improving service delivery.

Queer Connections: Celebrating LGBTIQ+ history in Port Phillip

An exciting new exhibition is landing at Carlisle Street Art Space on Friday 2 February exploring Port Phillip's rich queer history through the lens of its most iconic venues and events.

Take a trip through the decades and uncover new stories from some of your favourite local enterprises - past and present - including Cafe 31, Mandate nightclub, and the St Kilda Midsumma Pride March.

Discover the people, places and moments that helped shape and cultivate contemporary queer culture and the trailblazers, experimentation and glamour that exemplify the pride of Port Phillip's LGBTIQ+ community.

This exhibition is presented in collaboration with the Australian Queer Archives \(AQuA\) and Queer-ways and it is set to land at the Carlisle Street Art Space just in time for Midsumma Festival. Make sure to add this one to your list of festival 'must sees'.

Preparing for climate change over a board game

We're thrilled to bring The Adaptation Game board game (TAG) to our community on 20 April. It's a playful workshop for Port Phillip residents to connect and prepare to be more resilient to climate change.

TAG is based on real science about how climate change will affect Port Phillip. You get to play out real-world ways to prepare and protect your home, family, community, and environment. No act is too small, no idea is too big.

Come for the game, stay for the connections, and learn how you can make a meaningful contribution to your community's resilience.

TAG is a cooperative game where all the players work together, so you don't have to be "good at games". You will play with three other people, and there will be a facilitator running your game, making it as easy as possible for you.

If you're interested in playing The Adaptation Game, register your expression of interest. You'll receive updates as more details become available.

Caring for new mums

Caring Mums is on a mission to help ensure no woman is alone as she travels on her journey through motherhood.

The National Council of Jewish Women of Australia (NCJWA) provides emotional support and reassurance during a time of change for all mothers through its Caring Mums program.

NCJWA is calling out for more Caring Mums volunteers who want to help make a difference in empowering and enriching the lives of mothers.

Long-time volunteer Emily has been paired with six different mums over her journey with Caring Mums.

"I help mothers in need to go through the ups and downs on the start of their motherhood journey. It's a great way to give back and a really satisfying role."

Emily said she wished she had a Caring Mums volunteer to provide support throughout her own journey in early motherhood.

"Mums these days get so much advice and opinions from different people, social media and everywhere around them," she said. "I love to play a role where I'm not there to advise but just be a non-judgmental ear to listen."

Caring Mums are trained, volunteer mothers, who provide ongoing support for mothers from all kinds of diverse backgrounds, including those seeking asylum or may be facing physical or mental health issues.

"The transition into motherhood can be an exciting and challenging time and mums shouldn't have to feel alone or isolated in this process. It's always great to have someone in your corner that is there just for you," Emily said.

NCJWA is always on the lookout for new volunteers to support mothers with the program providing training and personal development opportunities for volunteers.

"I feel like the training from Caring Mums has made me a better person, mum, friend and a listener," Emily said.

"It's the most incredible, fulfilling program and the more support and volunteers we get, the more lives we can impact."

Caring Mums is a free, confidential, non-denominational service that is welcoming of all new mothers in Port Phillip and surrounding council areas.

NCJWA is hosting a volunteer information evening on Tuesday 6 February. To register interest, contact caringmums.admin@ncjwavic.org.au

Training commences from 21 February running every Wednesday for five weeks. For more information about the program and volunteering opportunities, visit the NCJWA's Caring Mums page.
