When Is An Asset Protection Permit Required?
A builder requires an Asset Protection Permit to carry out or allow to be carried out building works on land. An Asset Protection Permit aids Council in ensuring public assets and infrastructure are not damaged as a result of building work (including demolition work). The permit also protects the builder against paying for damage that may have existed prior to starting their building work.

Conditions on Asset Protection
Without limiting Council’s powers under Local Law No. 1, an Asset Protection Permit may be subject to such conditions as Council determines including:

a) requiring protection works to be done;
b) requiring the payment of a security bond;
c) requiring the erection of temporary fencing to the satisfaction of Council;
d) requiring that any or all public assets or infrastructure damage be repaired, replaced or re-instated within a specified time; or
e) requiring a temporary vehicle crossing to be installed to Council’s specification before commencement of any building works or delivery of any equipment or materials to the land.

Amount of Security Bonds
The amount of any security bond required under any Asset Protection Permit is to be proportionate to the likely costs of repairing any potential damage to any existing road (including carriageway), channel, drain, vehicle crossing or other public asset arising from the building works.

Applying For an Asset Protection Permit
Upon application Council’s Asset Protection Officer will undertake an inspection of the area surrounding the property within 10 working days of receiving the application. A minimum of three days’ notice is required for all inspections. The application will then be processed and the permit will be issued upon payment of the application fee and security bond.

How Much Does It Cost?
The application fee is invoiced when your application is received. Check the Development Permits Fee Schedule at http://www.portphillip.vic.gov.au/road_permits.htm

Security bond: The bond is determined after a site inspection. The bond required for works to a single dwelling is ‘usually’ between $2,500 and $5,000. Bonds for building works involving, multiple dwellings, house removals, commercial and industrial developments are determined based on the scope of works and based on the likely costs of repairing potential damage to public assets arising from the building work.

The bond is fully refunded at the end of the building work to the applicant provided there has not been any damage to Councils assets as a result of the building works.
Application for Asset Protection Permit

Allow at least 10 business days for the assessment of your application. Asset protection permit must be obtained before commencing any building works.
