After the smoke has cleared

The choking smoke haze from the recent fires powerfully brought home the enormity of the task ahead to rebuild.

While it's been heart-warming to witness the outpouring of support for people and fauna affected by the fires, the challenge now is to maintain that support for the long road ahead.

It's great to hear that the Port Melbourne Business Association has reached out to establish an informal Sister-City relationship with Lakes Entrance, an important Gippsland community hub for bushfire recovery. Council, with support of landlords, is also opening spaces for fire affected businesses from North East Victoria and Gippsland to trade on Fitzroy Street for a couple of months as part of the placemaking program.

Across this year Council will be hosting pop-up consultations four times a year in every neighbourhood. We encourage you to drop by and share your ideas on the way ahead. This might include why we, like most other councils, are raising the sensitive topic of a waste levy for community discussion. We are striving to reduce emissions from household waste as we ask: are we as a community, doing enough to tackle climate change? Council has declared a climate emergency and has a plan to be carbon neutral.

In this Diversity we look at how we welcome newcomers to Port Phillip. From citizenship ceremonies to community gardens, from new puppies to bouncing babies, it's all about reaching out to make personal connections.

Next time you meet someone new in the neighbourhood, smile and saying g'day – because we want to live in a community, not a motel.

Council respectfully acknowledges the Yaluk-ut Weelam Clan of the Boon Wurrung. We pay our respect to their Elders, both past and present. We acknowledge and uphold their continuing relationship to this land.

Boonwurrung and Torres Strait Islander songs were sung by John Wayne-Parsons (centre) accompanied by Michael Julian, as Parbin-ata Carolyn Briggs looked on.

A new day begins

As the sun rose on Australia Day hundreds gathered at St Kilda's Alfred Square for the first We-Akon Dilingja (mourning reflection) ceremony.

Presented in collaboration with the Boonwurrung Land and Sea Council, the We-Akon Dilingja ceremony recognised the journey and experience of the Yaluk-ut Weelam clan of the Boon Wurrung people and language group or the River People of Port Phillip.

The multifaith event brought the community together to commemorate and celebrate the rich and diverse culture of the First Peoples of this land.

The sombre yet positive ceremony included a Welcome to Country, performances by Indigenous musicians, readings that paid tribute to Boonwurrung elders, multifaith prayers and a traditional smoking ceremony.

"As the first Council in Australia to support an event of this kind we are so proud to be involved with this inclusive ceremony," Mayor Bernadene Voss told the crowd as the new day began.

 portphillip.vic.gov.au

"My vision is for all Australians to take pride in our shared history - recognising the important role of the First Australians - and recognising the value and importance of our heritage when celebrating our strengths and achievements as a Nation.

My wish is for all Australians to work towards acknowledging that we have both a diverse and shared history - a history that provides us with both lessons of the past and pride in the future".

Pavilion completed, school starts at JL Murphy

The redeveloped JL Murphy Reserve Pavilion is now complete, meaning greater access for women and girls to a variety of sports.

The upgraded larger pavilion, which features a number of energy-efficient and water-saving features, includes change rooms and storage for multiple clubs, plus a community room, kitchen and public toilets.

The $4.7 million project was funded by Council in partnership with the Victorian Government, AFL Victoria and sporting clubs. Next to be upgraded is the playground, due for completion later this year.

Meanwhile, along the Graham Street edge, construction has started on the new four storey Fishermans Bend Secondary School (interim name) scheduled to open in 2022. For more information visit www.schoolbuildings.vic.gov.au

Together these projects will create a new sporting and education hub in Fishermans Bend.

Port link to Lakes Entrance

Port Melbourne Business Association has established an informal sister-city link with Lakes Entrance in the wake of the devastating bushfires.

Working at a community-to-community level, the Business

Association plans to connect local business and community groups with their counterparts in the Lakes Entrance area.

How should we keep the beat?

Live music has long been at the heart of Port Phillip's cultural life. Council has developed a draft Live Music Action Plan to help shape the future of local music in all its forms - performance, education and participation.

If you play an instrument, sing in a choir or simply love music, this plan will interest you. Read the draft plan and contribute your ideas before 22 March.

Citizenship a joyous welcome

People from 42 countries were welcomed at the traditional Australia Day citizenship ceremony.

In a packed St Kilda Town Hall, 120 new citizens were joined by hundreds of friends and family for the formal final step in their journey to citizenship.

Welcomed to Country by Senior Boon Wurrung Elder Parbin-ata Carolyn Briggs and entertained by the Low Rez Melbourne Male Choir, the future citizens heard from a variety of speakers who invited them to fully embrace the freedoms and responsibilities of citizenship while bringing their heritage to their new home.

After taking the oath, the newest citizens received a certificate and native plant. Many moved to the front lawn to observe a traditional smoking ceremony and enjoy a sausage sizzle.

Welcome.
